Provincial training classes are being arranged and first aid classes are being held. A working area (costing between $275 and $300) is being constructed around the newly-reconditioned Civil Defence headquarters. ### "Dogs at Work" Movie Released

Associated Screen Studios has released another in its series of Canadian "Dogs at Work" short subjects. Entitled "Dogs at Work," this latest Canadian subject turns to the little-known subject of man's best friend, the dog, in working roles.

Featured are three distinct types of dogs doing three distinct types of jobs. The intelligent collie is seen acting in the part of assistant shepherd to his master with all the uncanny ability of his Scottish ancestors. To handle the innumerable flocks of sheep browsing over the Canadian prairie would be a task beyond human scope, thus the collie is worth his weight in gold to the western Canada sheep-raiser.

Pointers and setters are shown being trained from the age of one for that great day when they can contribute to their masters' hunting sport. Each spring trainer from all dogs to the plains of southern Saskatchewan and Manitoba to learn their trade.

While the majority of working dogs are engaged in peaceful duties, police dogs have a more serious job to do: the film points out. As special members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, they have among the most highly skilled service dogs in the world. Silver, the RCMP dog appearing in "Dogs at Work," was flown from his base to help locate a hunter missing in the Quebec wilds a short time ago.

"Dogs at Work" has been released for showing in all theatres in the country.

Swing Your Partner, All

Gaily swinging cotton tidels and tapping toes, to the titanic music of Norman Greenwood's Orchestra set the theme for the Annual Woodmen dance in the Legion Hall on Johnston Road, Saturday night, November 7. The dance, sponsored by the Hilltop Group of the White Rock Hospital Auxiliary was one of the most successful of the "Swing Your Partners" all sessions for which the Hilltop Group is now well-known. Over 300 guests were present and Party Bethell was the Master of Ceremonies and called the affairs.

Arcadia Group Card Party

Saturday night, November 7, at the White Rock Hotel another successful card party was held sponsored by the Arcadia Group of the Hospital Auxiliary. Mrs. Kyle was the high in bridge while her husband carried off the consolation in whist. Mrs. E. Graham won the first in whist and Mr. Whitman, consolation in bridge. Mr. Wiley captured the door prize. After the game a social hour was spent while the hostesses, Mrs. Brock, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. MacPherson served a dainty lunch. Next Saturday night someone will pick the winner of the lovely patchwork and hand-knit socks. These now on display at the White Rock Hotel. All money will go towards the furnishing fund for the two-bed ward in the new hospital.

W.R. O.A.P. Nominate T. Woodburne, President

Meeting in the White Rock Hotel on Tuesday, November 3 at 2 p.m. the White Rock Old Age Pensioners nominated T. Woodburne President for the coming year. Other officers also nominated were: Harry Harker vice-president; Mrs. Teesa Morgan, 2nd vice-president; Mr. E. A. Griffin, secretary-treasurer.

The President in his opening speech asked that all members rally round and make the coming bazaar on December 2 a success. It was decided to donate the sum of $750 to the Legion Poppy Fund. Two minutes' silence was observed in respect to the memory of members who had recently passed away. Reporting for the Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Morgan asked that all contributions to the bazaar be hand-knit as in as soon as possible. Mrs. Heydeke also reported that visits had been made to nine sick members since the last meeting.

The Rev. E. Pitt Griffith was the speaker for the afternoon and gave a very instructive and amusing talk on humours and religion. The President announced that a grand concert would be given in the Assembly Room of the White Rock Hotel on Friday, November 27, by the B.C. Electric Light and Amusement Club. Admission would be 25c.

Approve not of him who commands all you say.

We Shall Remember Them

Yesterday the bugles throughout many lands rang out the "Last Post" as millions bowed their heads and remembered the Fallen in two world wars. Well has the day been called "Remembrance Day."

For such a day and for such memories as it evokes only poetry of the highest order can suitably express our feelings. No one with memories of experiences of the First World War can ever forget the stirring words of Rupert Brooke in his rapturous requiem:

"Show out you bugles, over the rich Dead!
There's none of these so lonely and poor of old
But dying, has made us rarer gifts than gold. . .
Blow, bugles, blow. They brought us, out of death,
Nobleness, backed so long, and Love and Pains,
Honour has come back, as a king, to earth,
And paid his subjects with a royal wage;
And Nobleness walks in our ways again;
And we have come into our right again."

And, as the sound of the bugles faded away and the afternoon turned towards the twilight, many perhaps found comfort from such lines as these:

"Their glorious names shall be adored,
Great was their love and great their worth;
Their fame shall purify the earth,
And honour be their dear reward."

The Maple Leaf Forever

Once more in Ottawa the question of a Canadian flag is about to be raised, or has been by this time, for it was forecast as one of the prominent questions to be brought to the fore in the November Federal session.

For our part, we find ourselves growing a little weary of the chant "Canadians have no flag." The everlasting emphasis on our supposed lack of a national banner must leave the rest of the world also a little confused. They might well ask, "Why have you been so long in realizing this lack in your national life?" And the question is a good one. If we as Canadians have no flag, why do we not so decide many years ago? We have had two world wars in which Canada played no insignificant part. Our men fought and died under that ensign. We have raised several generations of school children to honour and respect the flag which waved over their classrooms and decorated their halls.

That we should now, suddenly, publish to the world that we have no flag, as we have done for the past eight or nine years, seems just a little ridiculous.

It has been recommended that the Red Ensign which most Canadians have long recognized as their flag should be adopted, with the slight change of the Maple Leaf replacing the coat-of-arms. It seems an eminently sensible solution. If Quebec can do so along with that decision, then they might, without disrupting national unity, continue to fly their own Drapeau Nationale with fleur-de-lis, et al.

After all the United States functions, patriotically speaking, with its Stars and Stripes, peacefully side by side with the Californian Bear on a yellow field and the far-famed Star of Texas as companion.

Both Sides of a Question

In all problems there are inevitably conflicting views, each party right, each in a measure one-sided. Because they feel that both sides of a question, particularly where public welfare is concerned, should receive publicity. The Editors of the Semahmoo Sun are willing to give space in their pages to the expression of such views. Today we feature a Guest Editorial from a district Organization which has a special bearing on the forthcoming Bylaw in December.

A Guest Editorial

Following up the interesting Editorial in last week's issue of the Sun on Education problems, the writer, incidentally a member of the Ratepayers' Association, takes this opportunity on their behalf to point out that the Editor is on good ground in suggesting that more classrooms must be provided for the increasing school population in Surrey, and also is on good ground in stipulating there should at present be no "frill" or unnecessary expenditure to provide sport, etc., in new buildings or otherwise.

It is noticeable, however, that he fails to suggest just from where the financing is to come now that the property owners are driven into an impossible position of having to bear the lion's share of school taxes.

The Ratepayers' Association have been trying to get support to impress on government bodies, both local and higher level, the absolute necessity of some immediate change in the present system of financing education which relies mostly on taxation of property.

It is significant that practically no attempt or suggestion of co-operation in trying to relieve the situation has been made by School Trustees, Teachers' Federation, P.T.A.'s or the Government Board of Education.

The two Municipalities, in Convention, suggested they recommend the House report, but apparently, that is not being considered by the Government as they are planning to institute the Rotation formula, the results of which remain to be seen.

No suggestion or plan to reduce the present high costs have been forthcoming and no matter what changes are made as to where the finances come from, the question of high costs must be grappled with and a big reduction is an absolute must.

The local Ratepayers' Association have their own formula, after long study, of how to reduce some of the costs—without impairing education in general.

They have ideas of a revised curriculum and a lessened high school population, thus needing fewer new buildings and courses, but do suggest our Council and B.C. Press co-operate with the Ratepayers to get some of their ideas before the authorities and the general public.

We approve bylaws without question there is little prospect of a change, so to get action we must refuse to approve, much as we dislike to do it.

Signed—Ratepayers' Committee on School Finance.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Most every day we read about juvenile delinquency. And we listen with some interest, to what people have to say. Of what is the cause and remedy, the answer I won't guess. But this I know and you know too, it's more than just a mess. Did you ever stop to ask yourself, are crime crime strips to blame?

The youngsters just absorb them, so some learn to do the same; These pictures showing cheating, lying, breaking into homes, Stealing cars and wrecking trains, such reading sure arouses Ideas in some younger minds, do such "comics" then become A contributory factor. They are bound to do for some.

Yet we call these pictures "funnies," they get wide circulation Then, does the press today aid delinquency with this kind of publication?

W. F. MCCLINTOCK

The Editor, Semahmoo Sun.

Dear Sir:

Dr. Lee, a U.S. Geologist of repute, has, I understand, placed considerable confidence in this White Rock country, from the scientific viewpoint. This is in the realm of Oil research, and I believe makes use of Radioactive wastes in the discovery of minerals and petroleum.

I am very much interested in all this line of work, nevertheless I am wholly the sensitive one when seeing data along these lines.

I have made it a practice for years to place advertisements in the papers and had one such in the Calgary Oil Examiner some months since, drawing attention to drilling for oil in this White Rock district.

I placed one such in The Semahmoo Sun when I first arrived here, and I do not advocate painting on a large boulder at the gravel pit on Stokes Road. It can be seen there as long as the rock rests there.

It is next to impossible to prosecute reliable oil finding through public support as has been the practice for years. I am sure that the Government is likely to secure adequate areas of oil leases without a certain amount of trouble regarding titles, etc., in an old settled area.

What we have in B.C. makes the whole business distasteful to the small operator. Personally I have no objection to the old method of seeking funds to drill a well.

I am extremely opposed to anything that favors of medium business and veiled "carry-over" in the public eye.

My part as I recognize it, as an Oil Diviner, is to deliver the oil in commercial quantities. I locate the actual drilling sites in the Calgary Oil Examiner, and to any oil company. But this same use is a great responsibility and can reach vast possibilities when made use of by the public employing such a person.

There is so much to suggest in a subject of this nature and your precious space in the Sun, a final thought may be I place.

In spite of the fact that Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Co. is an American owned Co., it is outside like them who should come into our district and at least put on ONE GOOD DEEP WELL TEST, on if they

PERSONAL FINANCES CAN BE TAILORED TO MEASURE, TOO.

Bank of Montreal Joint Accounts Fit All Kinds of "Figures."

A lot of people nowadays buy suits or costumes, even houses, tailored to meet their personal requirements. But, too often, the equal need for a "tailored" bank account is overlooked.

In many cases, for instance, married couples, clubs and social groups, do not realize the convenience of operating a Bank of Montreal joint account. Such an account is held by two or more persons. Withdrawal arrangements can be made as desired. Sometimes, it is agreed that any one of the parties can draw independently to any amount. In other cases, it may be stipulated that two or more signatures are required on every cheque.

It's easy to see how valuable these "tailored" joint accounts are. For household financing, for encouraging family savings projects and for keeping accumulation funds "on top" there is no sounder method. JOHNNIE JOHNSON, Cashier of the Bank of Montreal's White Rock Branch, will gladly explain all the details of a joint account "tailored" to your needs. Why not consult Mr. JOHNSON next time you're passing?

School District No. 36, Surrey

Dear Sir or Madam,

Your Board of School Trustees have received many requests to speak at meetings of various organizations throughout the district on the proposed Bylaw. In a number of instances two or more organizations have called their meetings in widely separated parts of the Municipality on the same night, making it impossible for the Board to attend. The Board have, therefore, decided to hold meetings in the five High Schools as designated below: Queen Elizabeth Jr. and Sr. High School, King George Highway, November 4, at 8 p.m.; Princess Margaret Jr. and Sr. High School, corner Rockwood and Pine Roads, November 6, at 8 p.m.; Queen Elizabeth Jr. and Sr. High School, Cleveland, November 10, at 8 p.m.; North Surrey Jr. and Sr. High School, Townline and Pike Road, November 12, at 8 p.m.; Semahmoo Jr. and Sr. High School, Johnston Road, White Rock, November 13, at 8 p.m.

The public are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

Yours very truly,
M. MATTHEWS,
Secretary-Treasurer.

The Semahmoo Sun and White Rock Weekly

choice. Dr. Lee's idea.

They must secure considerable acreage in this W.R. district, however.

I am well aware they are piling oil and later gas from Alberta and B.C. but disregard from possible politics they may follow, and drilling on a large scale, as well as that of Dr. Lee, may develop into a first-rate investment. The first to be served will be White Rock itself and outlying areas in the new hospital, etc.

Finally, I would like to state from the personal and disinterested that I am wholly opposed to receiving any remuneration (other than travel expenses) for enough work connected with this finding and locating of oil wells. Dollars are no concern to me and no payment in my way and be a good citizen. I am not far from the Old Age Pension, so what?

A. J. A. BELL,

November 9, 1953.

OWNED AND OPERATED

On the Home Front

By Carey Bell

This column has been planned for some weeks, and in fact numbers of items have been carefully laid aside from time to time to be included in its allotted space. But somehow her activities continually interfered with its conclusion. All the result of this two-hour life-ours even in peaceful White Rock. A theme one hears all too often and one ponders the reasons with no very satisfactory answer. With Christmas—and did not intend to mention the word for fear of arousing panic similar to my own at the mention of that at-one-time magic name—rapidly approaching, here seems little or no chance of any kind of a let-up.

A very small item in a daily paper recently caught my eye and I clipped it for future reference. The heading itself was intriguing and roused a sympathetic response. "Up With Housewives," it said "Up With Housewives."

How often have you and I been similarly "rked" by wrappings that, in the case of packaged goods especially, hide an inferior product—the cardboard bottom (another invention of the assembly-line type of mind) that so successfully conceal the fat and bone of the Sunday roast, the pre-packaged tomatoes with the not-so-good ones cleverly buried; the nail-tearing slide-openers on apple tins that could enumerate many others. Modern science is responsible for many advances, one has to admit, but even it can frequently fail to produce a truly practical and honest substitute for the old-time relationships between grocer, housewife and customer.

So I heartily endorse the findings of the Canadian Association of Consumers who listed the complaints of hundreds of Canadian housewives and handed them to the Quebec Regional Conference of the Packing Association of Canada meeting in Montreal recently.

We hope to get better and simpler packaging as a result. A lovely drive on Sunday afternoon—that was the November 1 Sunday, of course—along to Crescent, across the flats and up to scenic Panorama Ridge, a symphony in red and gold along all the beautiful winding lanes. Progress, we suppose, is inevitable, but somehow I am reactionary enough to hope that it will not too soon invade the roads and lanes and delightful half-trails that are still a source of enjoyment to the Sunday driver or walker. We came home in the gloaming, with the purple twilight settling down over the Bay and the light of Point Roberts, and the Evening Star across the darkening blue of the waters.

It is late fall, it is true, with the maple leaves rapidly falling, and the squirrels busy with their hoarding, and the first touch of frostier breezes spells some more serious and wiser needs for our family.

To me the first frosts always bring to mind farm suppers long ago with a pan of mother's ginger bread fresh from the oven and baked apples with the ginger bread just slightly warm and cut in squares. Some years had a deliciously shiny, sticky top, but none my mother and smaller varieties ever seem to achieve.

Old-fashioned ginger bread is still a favourite dessert today with most families. And if you can get that old-time glass of mother's hearty supper cake, you can get a somewhat more farishan version of it by making a fruit cocktail sauce and serving it short-cake fashion. Decorate it with whipped cream if calories are not a problem in your household. And if time is an element to be seriously considered, use a ginger bread cake mix. For my family I leave out the coconut, for one member does not like it. I whip a secret: I use a "spot" of butter in its place and think like a bit of butter my mother used to say, "the flavour that is remembered."

Here is the recipe for that Ginger Bread Fruit Cocktail Shortcake.

Cakes:

Favourite ginger bread recipe of packaged mix.

1 1/2 cups syrup from fruit cocktail.

2 tablespoons granulated sugar.

1 tablespoon cornstarch.

1/2 cup white sugar.

3 tablespoons lemon juice.

1 1/2 cups canned fruit cocktail.

1/2 cup shredded coconut.

Bake ginger bread in 8 or 9-inch square pan. Cool. Meanwhile make glaze. Heat syrup. Blend together sugar, cornstarch, salt and lemon juice, and stir into hot syrup. Cook and stir until clear and thickened. Cool thoroughly and add drained fruit cocktail and coconut. Just before serving cut ginger bread in squares and then cut crosswise. Arrange filling between squares sandwich-fashion. Top with more sauce and whipped cream, if desired.

Serves 3 generously.

Whoooping Cranes Fly

Away Home

When Whoooping Cranes were counted in the United States

there were only 21. Geoffrey

Gosselin, broadcasting from

Washington, D.C., in a CBC program, said that these very rare birds nest somewhere in the far north-west of Canada and fly to the salt marshlands along the Gulf of Mexico to spend the winter there. They are over four feet tall, snow white except for their jet black wing tips, with a wing span in flight of about seven feet. They get their name from their horing-borne call which, coming from a windpipe nearly five inches long, can be heard as much as three miles away. Owing to their great rarity it is absolutely forbidden to kill Whoooping

Cranes in the United States or Canada, but even so two were shot last year on their journey South. This year the American Wildlife Service and the Government Fish and Wildlife Service made a joint appeal that the birds should not be harmed on their journey. The Society has also issued postcards with a picture of a Whoooping Crane for people to send to the Wildlife Service along the route that the birds normally follow. These cards ask people to do what they can to protect the Cranes from hunters.

Government officials in Texas are waiting to count the Whoooping Cranes when they get to their winter homes and are also looking for signs of whether any young families are being brought back for in recent years there has been an average annual increase of four birds in the world's population. And in Texas stands one lonely Crane waiting to whom to welcome to his friends returning migration.

BOOKS FOR TEEN-AGERS

Henry Gregor Felsen is the kind of author to whom teenagers write, and for many books about us and our problems. Felsen knows whereof he writes, and he does so with a burning sincerity that has made his books uniquely popular with young people of both sexes.

"Street Rod," a story of terrific impact, tells the story of young Ricky Madson, just an average kid with a consuming ambition for a car of his own, who becomes a symbol of the passion for speed which has wrecked so many young American lives. This is a novel with a purpose—Felsen sets out to show that speed is a demon which is its character development, moving relentlessly to its tragic conclusion. It will leave you numb and shocked, yet convinced it is the story of Abby Chapin, young New England girl whose "steady" is the son of the local factory owner, the plant which dominates the entire life of the little town. As labour troubles emerge, and a union is organized, both Abby and her boy friend, Guy, are forced to take sides. The way in which they do so is conditioned not only by their family backgrounds, but by their own clearly realized personalities. The real struggle, however, is Abby's. How she gradually finds her place, after mental torment and, at times, tough but rewarding experience, makes fascinating reading.

This book, like Felsen's, is unique among teenage novels in that it presents real people in down-to-earth situations, with exceptional sincerity and understanding. To some readers this is a better novel than Felsen's. It lacks the excitement and better-knit in its structure, more rounded in its development and conclusion. Most novels, in the way in which it shows people growing and evolving, changing and maturing under the impact of experience, are in the very fruitful arena of personality and environment. It is an unusually satisfying and convincing book. JOHN MARSHALL

Clean Up Asparagus Bed

As soon as the Asparagus tops turn yellow, it is time to cut them down and clean up the bed. Cut the tops, or ferns, cut them down and clean up the bed. Cut the tops, or ferns, cut them down and clean up the bed. Cut the tops, or ferns, cut them down and clean up the bed.

There is any chance of rust diseases, it would be as well to burn the ferns, unless you use them for the latter purpose.

Then, too, it is as well to remove the ferns with the seed berries, for the latter become so freely they may become a nuisance in the bed.

When all has been cleared away, clean up the bed. Spread a good layer of humus material on top of the alley way and spread this over the surface to a depth of about three inches. Most of this may be raked off lightly in the Spring before growth starts.

The humus material may be good fibrous material, such as compost pile, or better still, well-decayed farmyard manure. A light dressing of seaweed is also most beneficial at this time of the year.

FORMING NEW ASPARAGUS BEDS
If you are intending to make a new asparagus bed, this should be done this Autumn. The planting of asparagus crowns must be done in April, but the ground must be prepared well beforehand.

If the soil is deep and well drained, asparagus beds may be formed on the flat, but as we have seen, it is not so simple as it seems.

final earthing up to celery ground is finished at this time, for celery grows much slower after this month, and must be allowed time to blanch. Hence, should severe frost set in, it might be injured by exposure. Even that grown merely for eating should be given a little earthing for protection, and if dusted with lime to destroy slugs before earthing, so much better.

The green variety, Utah, which naturally not require to be earthen up, but it would be advisable to store it in sand in a cool shed before sharp frosts set in.

LETTUCE
These should be earthen up to blanch them, if this has not been done before, and they can be taken up as wanted.

At this time of the year, the garden often presents a very untidy appearance, with old potato vines, tomato plants, corn stalks and others which have finished their cropping, all contributing to the disfigurement. This material can all be cleaned up and composted.

Such, and as long as they are, are rather slow to rot down. Furthermore, they are awkward to handle even in length. A good practice is to cut the stalks into short sections. One good way of doing this is to take a sharp sickle and cut the standing plants down with several cuts. This makes a little more work in the garden, but greatly facilitates the cutting.

Wherever soil is subject to erosion, make sure it is protected during the winter, either by sowing a cover crop, such as rye, or else keep the surface covered with straw, such as draw or light brush. This will reduce to a minimum the tendency for the soil to become washed away during the periods of heavy rainfall, and will insure a less loss in soil productivity.

On light soils, salt may be applied as a dressing, and will be beneficial. A good dressing of ground well drained. However, where seaweed is available, the salt in the weed should be sufficient.

Salt applied on silt, wet land will most probably do much harm.

Westminster Regiment Formers Survey

Langley Company

Formation of a special Survey

Langley Company of the Westminster Regiment (Motor) has been announced by Lt.-Col. E. V. Morgan, Ed. officer commanding.

Several Well-known veteran officers and NCO's have joined the regiment to organize and lead the activities of the new Company to be known as D Company. Lt.-Col. Morgan revealed.

The plans include formation of platoons in Whalley Langley and Cloverdale. Officer commanding the Company will be Capt. M. Lumbly, veteran of overseas service in the press censorship branch of the Intelligence Corps and assistant editor of the European edition of the Canadian army newspaper "The Maple Leaf".

He is at present manager of the Unemployment Insurance Commission. New Westminster, Captain Hamby resides in Whalley and was recently contacted by veterans or new recruits.

Second in command of the Company will be Capt. Hugh Grant, veteran of overseas service in the educational branch and now paymaster at the Municipality of Burnaby. Captain Grant has considerable regimental experience in serving with the Westminster Regiment as an NCO prior to being commissioned. Capt. Grant resides at 2nd Street, New Westminster.

Veteran Sgt. Hank Griffin, who served with the Royal Canadian Artillery overseas, has been appointed a platoon sergeant and instructor and Lt. Tom Glegg, Langley, will be a platoon commander.

One enlisted from Langley is Sgt. Will Lowery, veteran of service overseas in the Signal Corps in Italy and Northwest Africa.

"We feel that these experienced and enthusiastic officers and NCO's will help to build our Valley Company second to none," says Lt.-Col. Morgan.

"The regiment is expanding its activities and first class training and interesting classes as well as social contacts, are assured for all members."

An outstanding feature of the training programme will be first class musketry instruction from the Regimental Rifle Association, which this year topped the British Columbia Rifle Association by winning 14 of the musketry trophies. This instruction will be under the watchful eye of Major Tom May, a well-known Canadian marksman at Blaney frame.

Initial training will take place in the New Westminster armory, where motor transport will be provided from the city centre. Company headquarters have been set up in the drill hall for D Company.

Residents interested are urged to contact any of the officers or NCO's as soon as possible. Those from the Cloverdale area can leave their names with the secretary of the Canadian Legion.

Corporate Giving in Canada

A committee met to survey the charitable activities of 878 corporations in Canada has just completed its task and the findings will soon be published in book form.

The 878 Canadian Corporations contributed $6,070,000 to charitable causes in 1952, an increase of 100 per cent over 1951. In dealing with the question of multiple giving, the answer of the survey committee was overwhelmingly in favour of a "United Fund" approach to annual maintenance.

The sense of community responsibility was the main reason for making charitable gifts, they felt. Their report also shows how much of the money was distributed into the various charitable campaigns.

Home and welfare organizations, in 1951 received 70.2 per cent of the money collected in the corporations, cultural and recreational stood at 14.4 per cent and Colleges and Universities 3.5 per cent.

In making the survey the volunteer committee collected the help of many groups, including 70 Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce and the Canadian Voluntary Health and Welfare Organizations. More than 6,000 corporations were sent detailed questionnaires.

Another feature of the book discusses the operations of the Community Chest and Welfare Councils.

The findings recorded in this survey of Corporate Giving in Canada should prove of value to all Communities working on similar projects.

Great Northern Superintendent Retires

Mr. E. Clary, whose almost 40 years of western railroading, retired October 31 as superintendent of Great Northern's Cascade division.

R. N. Whitman, terminal trainmaster at Seattle since 1947, was appointed as Clary's successor.

Clary's long service with the Great Northern is in the tradition of veteran railroad operating men. His first job, at the age of 15, was to call boy at Melrose, Minn., where he worked 12 hours nightly, seven days a week—at a salary of $25 a month. In 1908 he became a brakeman on the Cascade division of the Great Northern at Everett.

He has railroaded in the Pacific Northwest ever since, being promoted to conductor in 1910, trainmaster in 1919 and finally superintendent of the Spokane division in 1943.

As superintendent at Spokane, Clary's jurisdiction extended to Seattle.

He was honored at a banquet November 7 in Seattle.

Canada's "Trains of Tomorrow" the stainless steel "view dome" beauties which the Canadian Pacific Railway's system for trans-continental service next year, have already extended their influence into British Columbia.

Work has already begun on the first of 44 tunnels in the Canadian Pacific's British Columbia district, to prepare them for the accommodation of the new trains which will embody the finest and most comfortable rail travel features of any on this continent.

Among the most spectacular tunnel engineering feats in N.

America, the five-mile Connaught under-towering Mount Macdonald, opened in 1916, and the world-famous, pre-stressed spiral tunnels on the Canadian Pacific line east of Field, B.C., constructed in 1907, are also under inspection.

However, no modifications are anticipated here for the handling of the new "blister" observation and lounge. Minor stoping, or back excavation, will be necessary in other sections of the line.

First work of excavation has begun in a 300-foot tunnel near Cherry Creek, 14 miles west of Kamloops, B.C.

The 44 Canadian Pacific B.C. district tunnels involved, including the 4578-foot rail-line under the city of Vancouver, and 1400-foot "Long Tunnel," near Spuzzan, in the Cascade sub-division, 384-foot "Black Canyon" near Haskue, in the Thompson sub-division, down as 105-foot "Cariboo Joe" near Adee on the Cascade sub-division are to undergo careful inspections to suitably outfit them for the railway "prima revolutione rail travel in Canada."

Canada Has Bumper 1953 Wheat Crop

The developments that have featured the agricultural year, when viewed in retrospect, are far from one-sided," comments the Bank of Montreal's Business Review released recently.

For the third successive year, a huge harvest of wheat has been garnered on the prairies, the bank states, "and, throughout the land, field crops in general are expected to approach the exceptionally high yields obtained last year." Latest figures set this year's wheat crop at 594 million bushels. If this is realized, the average for the past three years will have been a phenomenal 600 million bushels, as compared with an average of 587 millions for the preceding ten years. The domestic market may be expected to consume 100 million bushels in the current crop year. With last year's carry over, this will leave a peace-time record of almost 800 million bushels available for export and carry over.

"The marketing of a surplus of this magnitude is not an easy task," the review observes, but goes on to point out that "if grain growers are, for the moment, long on inventory, the asset they hold is likely to be realized eventually in a world that has never for very long produced more cereals than it consumes."

E. C. Darts, President I.P.F. Garden Club

The regular monthly meeting of the International Peace Park Garden Club was held in the American Kitchen, Peace Park, on Tuesday, November 3. There was a record attendance.

Mr. Harry Marshall reported that the use of the kitchen had been offered to the club for all meetings.

The annual election of officers was held and resulted in the following being elected: President, Mr. E. C. Darts; vice-president, Mr. A. H. Porter; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. G. H. Baker; project, Mr. E. A. Griffin. The project committee was re-elected en bloc. The president asked that suggestions for the 1954 season be forwarded to the project committee. Mrs. G. McAllen was elected convener for committee for making arrangements for the Christmas entertainment on December 2 next. All members are asked to bring gifts not exceeding 25 cents in value.

There being no speaker, the president asked members to report on their gardens, their successes and failures which resulted in a very interesting discussion.

Refreshments were served and a very enjoyable evening was brought to a close at 10:30 p.m.

Legion Birthday Banquet well-attended at Newton

About 280 guests sat down to a turkey supper in the Newton Legion Hall at 7:30 on Saturday evening, November 7, in celebration of the 4th birthday of the Branch. Many dignitaries were at the banquet, including Comrade Ralph Gibson, the Provincial President of the Legion; Senator Tom Reid, Tom Irwin, M.L.A. and Speaker of the House in Victoria, Reeve Chas. Schultz and the Rev. Comrade Atkinson of Whalley.

Comrade Whittaker, first President of the Branch, gave the opening address and Comrade Tom Lindow, Zone Commander, initiated about 28 new members. After the banquet and speech making was over the floor was cleared and dancing continued until the small hours of the morning. All voted that a good time had been enjoyed by everyone.

CHORAL SOCIETY

the beginning are held September 2, 1937.
At that time the organization was directed by Alexander Wallace, a well-known musical figure in New Westminster. In Oct. 1945 the president was H. Vidal; vice-president, A. Shepherd; secretary, Mrs. L. Burrows; treasurer, Mrs. A. Shaw; librarian, Mr. Wilson; pianist, Miss M. Grant.
No records of any meetings between September 1939 and October 24, 1945, are available and apparently the society was disbanded during those years.
After the reorganization in October 1945, Mr. Lewis Ward became president. The first selected to other officers were: President, C. P. Ornter; vice-president, H. Thompson; secretary, Miss B. Taylor; treasurer, Miss G. Ornter; librarian, D. Broadwood; pianist, M. Grant; assistant pianist, B. O'Shea; publicity, B. Ornter.
In 1948 Mr. George Weaver moved into the district and finding no active choral group in White Rock at that time he put an ad in the local paper inviting interested residents to meet with him. Twenty-two music lovers responded and the White Rock Choral Society was formed, with Mr. Weaver as president. The original group of officers was composed of: President, F. Jones; vice-president, Mrs. A. Smith; secretary, treasurer, Sheila Carmichael; pianist, Mrs. R. Hansow; assistant, Mrs. J. Penner; librarians, Mrs. T. E. Small.
The first group of officers were: G. Berry, president; Mrs. Robert Taylor, vice-president; Miss F. Wadell, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Bruce Fraser, pianist.
There is a place in the White Rock Choral Society for all those interested in singing, and members are welcome any time. Meetings held every Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the Katsyergy Hall, on Friday Street, near Burns Vista.
